

Brothers and sisters,

For those that do not know me let me introduce myself. My name is Michelle Reid, I am a PCA and have been a proud NAPE member for over 13 years both with Eastern Health and for home care agencies, and a shop steward for 11 of those years. I've held the position of vice president and president in local 6202, both chair and co-chair of Labour Management meetings, bringing important issues to be addressed to the table. Just this February I started my current position at local 6206 Health Science Centre Emergency Department where I am currently shop Stewart and sit on the board of directors.

In the years I've been part of the executive I have never passed up the opportunity to further educate myself attending steward training, labour school, women's conferences, biennial conventions, federation of labour conventions and component conventions. My belief is that if there is an opportunity to learn you take it I do not claim to know everything and do not hesitate to research or reach out to find an answer to any question or problem that arises, those that know me can certainly attest to that.

Over the years I have also proudly stood shoulder to shoulder in marches in support of better wages, take back the night, and rallies at Confederation Building, I have a strong voice and eager ear-I will listen and I will speak up on your behalf.

NAPE has incredibly strong representatives and leadership and if elected to represent you as Board Member, I would certainly be an asset as a solid member of the team who has a vision of fairness and equality within our workplace and our union.

Solidarity
